Osiris Water Management Ltd.

Company Announcement

We are very pleased to announce that we have concluded a deal with Germany company EnviroChemie to acquire our business.

Who are EnviroChemie?

Headquartered in Rossdorf, near Darmstadt, EnviroChemie has been in business for 44 years. In this time, they have steadily built a multi-national presence and employ 1000 people across their operations in 16 different countries. Their most recent financial statements showed a turnover figure in excess of €250m. They are owned by SKion Water and supply sustainable system solutions worldwide for all the tasks involved in industrial water treatment and the treatment of process water, circulation water, cooling water, boiler water and wastewater.

What this means for you?

We will continue to operate with all current management and staff, with Chris Müller remaining as Director and Ron Harradine continuing to offer expert advice in a new Consultancy role. This ensures the day-to-day service delivery on our customers' premises will not change. All points of contact and contract governance processes will also remain unaffected. The support of a major European organisation will help us to consolidate our position in the UK market, with scope to increase our service offering in the future. We see this as a great opportunity for us all at Osiris and we're looking forward to an exciting future with EnviroChemie.
